

Educational Action Research Ireland (EARI)

EARI (the Educational Action Research in Ireland space) has been designed to showcase, interrogate and explore self-study approaches to action research for practitioners in Ireland and beyond.

Practitioner research

Bernie Sullivan

Critical reflection

Caitriona McDonagh

Values

Mary Roche

Máirín Glenn

www.eari.ie

Home to NEARI- the Network of

Educational Action Research in Ireland

Latest publications

Currently offering a space for reflection, research and publications, consultancy and resources to help the action research process.

EARI is connected with:

CARN - <http://www.esri.mmu.ac.uk/carnnew/>

ARNA - <http://www.arnaconnect.org/>

ALARA - <http://www.alarassociation.org/>

Jack Whitehead - <http://actionresearch.net/>

Click on names to see their individual living-poster

Bernie Sullivan

Caitriona McDonagh

Mary Roche

Máirín Glenn

Pip Bruce Ferguson

Network of Educational Action
Research in Ireland

NEARI LIVING THEORY

for

NEARI is a non-profit, non-institutionalised network for practitioner researchers who are interested in exploring their practice through action research and living theory.

Bernie Sullivan

Caitriona McDonagh

Mary Roche

Mairin Glenn

Pip Bruce Ferguson