Volume 7(1): 53-81 www.ejolts.net

It is about children and always about the children. Whatever I do in education is about children. I want to make better the lives of the children ...I want to perfect my practice so I can improve their schooling. I want to imagine new ways of teaching so I can teach them well and they can learn well. I want be a first-rate teacher-facilitator so I can move teachers to teach the children well... innovative teaching methods... improved technique... effective curriculums...valuable research for a safer, beautiful world... It is about the children always about the children
