

Supporting the Student Journey

I am passionate about supporting students to develop the skills they need to become independent learners for their lifelong education.

In this image, the student is the one holding the map, deciding where to go, planning their route for how they'll get there. I exist beside them, helping them figure out where they want to go and supporting them on their journey.

The open sea represents the potential that every student has for achieving their goals.

My Research Interests:

- Student Support
- Academic/Life Skills
- Belonging and Identity
- Academic Practice
- Living Educational Theory
- Referencing/Academic Writing
