

Click here to go to living-posters directory and archive

Member of these groups: EJOLTs, BARN & the SKYPE Living Educational Theory research postdoc group - Find other group members on the living-posters homepage and in the living-posters directory & archive

Liz Campbell

Co-founder of BARN, Co-Facilitator 2013- present

I have been a high school teacher for almost two decades and a passionate learner for over five decades. I believe I have a responsibility to contribute to a shift in education that recognizes the embodied knowledge of the learners in my care whether they are teenagers, new teachers, veteran teachers or educational practitioners. I embrace the idea of alternative ways of knowing to identify, generate, and represent knowledge in order create new solutions for the problems that plague our world today. The hope for our future lies within our ability to creatively collaborate and find a way to unveil the unique voice of individuals to create a new and sustainable harmony of the collective voice. I currently teach high school at SDSS in Port Elgin and I am also completing a Phd in Educational Sustainability at Nipissing University. This is my third year co-facilitating BARN and it continues to bring me great pleasure.

Campbell, E. (2013) The heART of learning: Creating a loving culture of inquiry to enhance self-determined learning in a high school classroom. Educational Journal of Living Theories.

December 2013, Volume 6, Issue 2 (special issue) (pp. 62-77). Retrieved January 8, 2017

from: <http://ejolts.net/node/214>