Click here to go to living-posters directory and archive

Member of the EJOLTs group. Find other group members on the living-posters homepage and in the living-posters directory & archive

Sigrid Gjøtterud

How can I improve what I do? And what is it that I do?

Teacher education for sustainable development

How can I as a teacher educator improve my practice, and how can we as a team improve our joint practice?

In our guiding practice we intend to meet our students in what Buber denotes I and Though relations. Sometimes our encounters are contradicting this value. In mutual reflections we seek to enhance our practice in accordance with this value. http:// ejolts.net/node/127

How can I and we as a team influence student teachers to research their own practice in light of their values? This guestion is born from the previous one. We want to find better ways to help student teachers to discover their potential for being change agents, the power of their own values and

http://www.spanglefish.com/sigridssite/

https://www.nmbu.no/ans/sigrid.gjotterud

Why Living Theories action research?

Values made concious and expressed is a powerful force for change. Values indicating actions for the public good are crucial to social and cultural sustainability. Publicly expressed values call for commitment and prompt actions leading to change of practice.

- orphans?
 - What actions are needed towards the orphans?
 - How can we improve the co-operation between ourselves and with the orphans?

Exploring Transformative

Potential of Action Re-

schools and communi-

a pedagogical resource ties: the use of 'farm' as search for linking

in Tanzania.