Practitioner Research in Higher Education

This refereed journal is produced by the university's Academic Quality and Development (AQD) service. It was established in order to develop research into reflective practice and to encourage both experienced and early career researchers to share their research with a wider academic audience. Further information is available here.

The Teacher Education Advancement Network (TEAN)

This inclusive network of teacher educators from across the UK, Europe and beyond is hosted by the University of Cumbria. Details of the journal, webinars, conferences etc can be accessed from here.
